Preface

The NWISEd¹ workshop series provides a dynamic forum for the presentation, discussion, and dissemination of innovative educational approaches in information systems, software engineering, and related fields. The workshop aims to bring together educators and practitioners to share experiences, best practices, and lessons learned in modern teaching methodologies, both in on-site and remote environments.

The workshop seeks to support and enhance teaching and learning experiences, ultimately fostering sustainable education. By identifying, refining, and promoting proven practices, it aims to transform them into everyday habits for educators, helping to bridge the gap between innovative concepts and their practical application.

NWISEd is designed for educators in information systems, software engineering, and related disciplines, as well as for anyone interested in exploring modern education approaches, pedagogical strategies, tools, and technologies. It provides a collaborative space where participants can engage in discussions, experiment with new methodologies, and contribute to shaping the future of learning.

This volume contains papers presented at the 3rd Workshop on Co-Creating New Ways of Information Systems Education (NWISEd 2025), held at the Faculty of Electrical Engineering and Computer Science, University of Maribor, Slovenia, on September 10 - 11, 2025. Submissions included position papers, works-in-progress, tool demonstrations, and technical reports, all peer-reviewed by the Program Committee. In total, 12 papers (6 regular, 6 short) and one abstract were accepted and are included in this volume.

We sincerely thank the Organizing Committee. Special thanks also go to the Program Committee for their reviews and to the University of Maribor for hosting the event. Finally, we thank all contributors for making NWISEd 2025 a valuable and inspiring experience.
